I had these small tract racks made to hang in the Jeepney terminals around town...some are just sheds to wait out of the rain and some are major terminals where you can buy bus tickets and they have waiting rooms. In this major terminal we asked permission to install a tract rack on the wall by the TV in the waiting room. He encouraged us to do so in this very public facility.

A security guard took note of us while we were installing one. He asked us for one, read it, asked for more. In the photo taken through glass you see him passing out tracts to all. He asked for more and more again. He boarded one of the busses and gave one to all.

Take notice of this handsome face holding the hammer after installing a tract rack in a Jeepney shed. This is my son James (he is the brother of Mary Bethany). You will be seeing a lot of him. James is already a Bible college graduate and has pastored. Back in the spring of last year when we told him we were coming to start the Bible institute. He counseled with his father and they both decided it would be best for all if James came and helped me in this new ministry. Like the apostle Matthew, James left all and brought his family on a long journey to live by faith and be my right-hand man. He will be invaluable to me in this effort.

As you can see the men are coming out of the ground on the new grounds. This is the bunkhouse/SS rooms/Bible Institute ready for the roof. If anyone would like to help in this construction of a church, printing house, Bible Institute staff housing most importantly...a basketball court just let me know you are coming.

COMMON SCENES IN PI (but not in USA)

I could use this as a money-winning quiz question but I will simply tell you that you are looking at a genuine solar powered electric clothes dryer. What would OSHA think of this?

ALMOST FORGOT THE ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S QUIZ

The photo appears again so you can figure it out. Many weird guesses...from chickens to dogs and monkeys but the weirdest was "hairy bowling balls". These are live goats gathered at the feet and tied and then tied to each other and slung over the fender. They are looking at you but upside down. Only one person guessed correctly and they will collect their prize money upon arrival here in PI. Congratulations to the winner.
