

2Co 2:12 ...and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

A DOOR...OPENED

PICTURE THIS SCENE IN USA...
 Land of the free and home of the brave. I am a white, foreigner, and a stranger to all who see me. I walk freely onto the campus of a public elementary school and make my way to the principal's office as the kids gather, smile and the guys say "Hey Joe"...(left over from WWII and the GI's who helped save PI). I enter the office and immediately greet the principal at her desk. I introduce myself explaining my ministry of training young people for the ministry and make my request to have my students come and spend an hour in song, games and Bible stories for her students. Without hesitation or consultation or contemplation she says "Yes! When?" We schedule a weekly time and I am on my way. So...this Friday we will bring our institute and minister to 150 sixth-graders for an hour. PTL...we now have a high school and a grade school to minister to freely. Notice the two photos ministering in the high school and look closely at the walls of the public school plastered inside and out with scripture verses...since I graduated from HS, 50 years ago, this has been illegal in the home of the free.

TO BREATH IS TO WITNESS
 My goal for the male students was to preach them as nearly to everyday as possible. I want them to have preached 200-250 times or more by the time they graduate...so that preaching and breathing take the same amount of courage. Our ladies preach in any circumstance and quickly find ears. Notice Ruby netting two more.

TYPHOON NEWS
 This was a bad one...you can read the news...we were not affected at all. Two days of light rain and no wind PTL but many thousands suffered much. This one photo tells just one sad story.

WE ALL LOVE CHURCH
 Two photos show special student music groups in the church...they could improve the quality of their song but not their heart. The church is doing well and expanding both numerically and physically...pray the Lord will allow a marvelous door that has presented itself in front of us.

PAINTING HIS GRAMMA'S TOMB
 Only a couple won the last "THOUSAND PESO" contest. The man was painting his grandma's crypt as we preached on the day of the dead. Grandma really loves the remodel.

YET ANOTHER CHANCE TO WIN 1,000 PESOS...THIS ONE'S EASY
 In the last photo (taken from my bedroom window) what is my neighbor's boy doing. Easy! Winners collect the thousand upon arrival at our home for a missions visit after showing proof of zeal for the Lord. Preaching the gospel on your streets and around the world
