

ONE ON ONE MINISTRY

I have been an avid publick minister now for 51 years and publick ministry is a major part of our Bible Institute here. In the Philippines the “house to house” is fraught with many problems, however we do conduct many home Bible studies. For our purposes here, let’s look at that phrase “house to house” as “one-on-one” or personally dealing with individual folk. We both teach and practice this also. We do publick ministry many times a week and blend in the one-on-one with the publick preaching.

PERSONAL WORK

Last night we had one of our best street meetings with over 30 folk from our church and institute out singing, holding signs, and, yes, preaching. The joy of those involved was both audible and nearly palpable. Look close at the photos and maybe you too can feel the joy and excitement we revel in during a good street meeting.

MORE THAN 30

I took one photo of the crowd we were ministering to. Many of my fellow street preachers will lick their lips at the prospect of this opportunity. Attached on this report is a 30 second video of this Friday night street meeting. Hear the singing in the background.

JEFF'S FIRST TIME

One of our young people (10 yrs old) in our church asked if he could give his testimony and read some scripture, so here you see Jeffery preaching for the first time. He is a very neat kid and all love him. Look again at the photos and see a couple shots where personal work is being done.

These photos were taken at our old folks ministry. My partner, James, was preaching and since there is only room for so many inside I went out and ministered to a young man.

To my left in the photo one of our young college ladies is ministering to another young woman. A second shot from the front shows them mulling over the Word of God (see first picture under the title on first page).

These were seed planting experiences but we do get to glean sometimes.

We are doing a series in all our SS classes on the tabernacle. Each class age must build their own. In a few weeks when we finish we will have some 9 year olds who will be expert on the subject of the tabernacle.

All is very well with us here and we are having a ball serving the King of Kings.

Thanks for all your interest, prayer and support.
